BURGLARS ENTER A STORE

TWENTY-SECOND WARD PLACE IS RANSACKED.

Thieves Carry Away Groceries and Other Kinds of Movable Plunder -Police Are at Work on the Case.

Burglars entered the Twenty-second ward store on the corner of Fifth West and Fourth North streets some time during Friday night, and com pletely ransacked it. Proprietor J. A. Haslam estimates that his loss is $100, dry goods and groceries and chattels of every description being taken. The intruders forced open a rear door to gain admission, and from the thorough over-hauling the store received the police are inclined to believe it was the work of someoody familiar with the prem-iess. Officers Sporry and Davies have the case, and are confident of running down the burglars.

Logan, Dec. 2.—The farmers here are rejoicing over the news that the Southern Pacific will restore its old rate on wheat from Ogden to the coast. Recently the company increased the tariff on wheat between the points name! The cents per 100 pounds, which had the effect of dropping wheat in Logan to & cents, and even at that figure the very best milling wheat was demanded. Grocely stores refused to take wheat for their goods. The reduntion in the transportation rate, which will go into effect on the 18th, will give the price of wheat a spurt upward here. (Special Correspondence.)

Provo, Dec. 2.—City Physician Simmons is keeping a close watch on the smallpox contagion. The doctor, on being informed that Ray Bachman and Ern Buckley, employees of the Telluride Power company, were at the hotel in Spanish Ferk occupied by the Lindsay troupe Sunday night, immediately hunted the bors up and gave them a bath at the expense of Provo City. The bath the doctor prescribed to them was biohoride of mercury, after which they were required to thoroughly funiquite their old clothes. The doctor says he does not intend to have smallpox break out in Provo if it can possibly be avoided.

(Special Correspondence.)

Springville, Dec. 2.—The beet-growers' meeting at the cily hall today was productive of scarcely anything in the way of the results expected. During the scann there has been a great deal of complaint in some quarters in regard to the system of weights used by the sugar company at the factory here, out of which grew the present meeting. At this meeting it was proposed to levy an assessment on the beet acreage to defray the expense of separate scales, in order to check agathet the factory scales. On discussion, it was discovered that most of these reports were on such slight foundation in fact that no move was deemed necessary. The meeting them adjourned, the beet-growers being apparently well satisfied with the factory's way of conducting its business.
